COVID-19: Keep alert and stay compliant

Gwynedd Council's Public Protection team continue to visit businesses to provide advice and ensure the regulations are followed. Crucial feedback for both retail and hospitality is the importance of making sure staff are wearing face masks at all times.

In addition, for hospitality, it is vitally important that contact tracing details are fully collected. Every hospitality business – including pubs, bars, cafés and restaurants – is required to collect the details (name, telephone number and a record of the date and arrival time of everyone over 18) for all staff, customers and visitors and keep this information in a safe place for 21 days. Displaying a NHS App QR code on its own doesn't comply with the rules.

Detailed guidelines are available for both sectors:

- Retail
