

Participation Strategy

Foreword

The foreword will be drafted following the public consultation

Introduction

Under the Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act 2021, local authorities in Wales must publish a Participation Strategy which notes the ways that local people are encouraged to participate in the Council's decision-making process.

It is expected that the strategy will evolve and improve over time as good practices emerge and as further technological advances are made.

This Strategy outlines Cyngor Gwynedd's aim of encouraging people to participate in the decision-making process. In this strategy, we have attempted to explain how our objectives in terms of participation will make a genuine difference to the way we engage with people in Gwynedd. Within every objective, we have identified clear outcomes and actions.

This is our first strategy and its implementation will be kept under review.

Our Duties in terms of Participation and Associated Policies

Our aim is to be open and responsive to the needs of the residents and communities of Gwynedd. This will give local people an opportunity to influence policies and services and to shape them. Our objective is to create a culture of partnership with the public which encourages expressing views and contributions.

We put the people of Gwynedd at the centre of everything we do and this strategy supports the objective by embedding public participation in the Council's decision-making processes. This is central to the ethos of the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015.

Participation entails sharing decisions with those who will be affected by the decisions, and it must be an integral part of our work. Our aim is to say what we intend to do, and to hear residents' opinion about the idea. Participation can include a wide range of different approaches and techniques, and the Council or residents can suggest them. It must be borne in mind that there is an opportunity to include formal arrangements such as consultations that are followed in fields such as planning and education.

The Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act 2021 places a number of duties on local authorities in terms of participation. Namely:

1. Promoting awareness of the functions that the Council deliver for local residents and businesses and for visitors.
2. Sharing information on how to become an elected Member or a Councillor, and what the role of a Councillor entails.
3. Ensuring that information on decisions that have been made, or which are to be made by the Council, are more easily accessible
4. Offering and promoting opportunities for residents to provide feedback to the Council, including observations, complaints and other types of comments.
5. Promoting awareness of the advantages of using social media to communicate with residents for Councillors.

However, it does not mean that we agree with every comment expressed, and we must always act within restrictions such as the law and financial restrictions.

Our Objectives

Partnership Arrangements

Cyngor Gwynedd is a key partner of the Gwynedd and Môn Public Services Board.

The Public Services Board was set up in the wake of the Well-being of Future Generations Act (Wales) 2015 (Sharing a Purpose: Sharing a Future) in order to ensure sustainable developments while fulfilling the seven well-being aims.

The sustainable development principle considers the five ways of working that public bodies must implement to show that they apply the principle.

Members include representative of private, public and voluntary sectors in Gwynedd and Môn. The PSB is committed to seeking the views of residents on all policies and decisions made, and how we can make improvements in the future.
